Knowledge Management

The software is designed to maintain a transparent record of creative innovation, providing simple access to historical information, and ensuring consistent record-keeping.

By providing a centralised knowledge base for all formulators, duplication of effort is reduced, and continuity may be achieved irrespective of staff turnover.

GMP Compliance

Unique barcode identification of each container used in the laboratory allows full traceability of raw materials, linking manufacturer lot numbers right through to experimental batches.

Formulation development history and modifications to experimental processes may be tracked for future reference.

The Inventory component also assists with correct labelling of Raw Materials (hazardous, flammable, etc) to meet legislative requirements.

Friendly, Familiar User Interface

Using a standard intranet browser for the user interface, this system can handle any number of users on a corporate intranet network.

This software is already in use in a leading multinational R&D Laboratory, and can be customised if required to meet the needs of your laboratory.
